

What about the innumerable faith-filled priesthood-blessing-receiving unending-prayed-for covenant-keeping full-of-hope Latter-day Saints whose miracle never comes?

At least in the way they understand a miracle?
At least in the way that others appear to receive miracles

Is our faith focused on God the Father and His holy plan and in Jesus the Christ and His Atonement?

Do you have the faith to submit to His will and not be healed?
